

Jeffrey C. Parry
Registered Patent Attorney

Law Practice

Jeff Parry is a registered patent attorney. He holds a degree in chemical engineering with additional training and education in electrical engineering.

Mr. Parry has substantial experience in litigation related to various intellectual property areas. This experience guides him in instructing clients how best to protect their IP rights and avoid common pitfalls. He also has significant experience conducting patent searches and with the preparation and filing of patent applications in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Mr. Parry strives to provide competent legal counseling regarding patents and trademarks. He enjoys assisting his clients to identify and strengthen their intellectual property assets.

Areas of Practice

- Patent application preparation and prosecution in the mechanical, software, chemical, and electrical arts
- Trademark registration

Related Employment

- Zarian, Midgley & Johnson PLLC, Boise, ID, 2008-11
- Cardinal Intellectual Property Law Group, Evanston, IL, 2007-08

Recent Publications

- “Protect Your Identity with the Right of Publicity,” The Advocate, June/July 2011
- “Preemptive Strike: New Third Party Patent Review Procedures Via the America Invents Act,” The Advocate, October 2012

Education

- Juris Doctor, Brigham Young University, 2006
- Bachelor of Science, Chemical Engineering, Brigham Young University, 2003

Admissions to Practice

- Washington State Bar Association (2007)
- United States Patent and Trademark Office (2007)
- Idaho State Bar (2009)